Music from the RiverRoots Music and Folk Art Festival (formerly Ohio River Valley Folk Festival) will once again echo the banks of the Ohio River this May 18-20, at the Bicentennial Park in Madison, Indiana. Both children & adults have enjoyed all the activities, including eclectic roots music, music workshops, storytelling and folk art.

Each year, with the help of our members, we've seen the festival excitement and momentum grow consequently improving the festival itself. Through membership support, we can continue to offer great names in music, music workshops, and a growing list of other activities.

We continue to draw from a multi-state area for a weekend of great music and family entertainment. It's a magical time in Madison on the banks of the Ohio River.
